Rowton Calls For Finance Enquiry By Commission

A royal commission should be set up to enquire into the financing of education in the province of British Columbia, a school trustee told a meeting of ratepayers on Monday evening.

Capt. Jack Rowton, addressing ratepayers of Saanich School District at Mount Newton high school, recalled that the only party coming to the polls last year without offering some hope of tax relief was the successful Social Credit party.

"The only way to do anything about it now is to press the government for a royal commission on education financing," he stated.

Chamber Asks For Lights In Sidney For Decorative Use

Provision of permanent Christmas lights in Sidney village and finalization of a plan for a park area, adjacent to the ferry compound at Fifth St., were some of the items included in a brief which was presented to village council on Tuesday night by a delegation from the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the chamber were advised that long drawn out negotiations with the provincial government to get province-owned land deeded back to the village had almost come to a standstill.

Chairman Dr. C. H. Hemmings explained that a year ago the village had asked the executive council in Victoria that the land adjacent to the ferry compound be given back to the village for park development. No reply had been received during the last year, the chairman stated.

In regard to permanent colored lights on Beacon Ave. and other parts of the village, the chairman pointed out that Sidney would pay for electricity and maintenance if some organization would install the lights.

More Officers For Sidney?

Number of members of the R.C.M.P. stationed at Sidney may be increased, Attorney-General Robert Bonner told the legislature this week. He was answering John Tisdale, Saanich M.L.A., who asked if such a move were possible.

Mr. Bonner said he was unable to give a definite commitment but the matter is "under consideration."

At present the police force in Sidney consists of a corporal and a constable.

DISTRICT WAS LET DOWN SAYS GIBBS

North Saanich was "badly let down" on the last school building by-law.

J. W. Gibbs, of Deep Cove, made this assertion at a ratepayers' meeting in Mount Newton high school on Monday evening.

"It's going to take a big public relations job to take the taste away," he told trustees of Saanich School District.

"And it doesn't need high pressure salesmanship," he added.

Students Decorate Store Window For Education Week

Under the motto, "Education Shapes Canada's Future" and carried by the slogan "School Home, Together We Teach", Sidney elementary and Sidney School P.T.A. decorated one of the display windows at Sidney Dry Goods on Beacon Ave., to mark Education Week from March 6-11.

It is the first time that the local school has put on such a display to emphasize the importance of education in Canada. Sponsored by the P.T.A., pupils of the elementary school were responsible for the decoration.

Flanked by a reproduction of a Canadian scene by well known contemporary Canadian artist, A. Y. Jackson, text books, record albums, reading books, sports equipment, a globe and a microscope are arranged to demonstrate the various subjects taught at the school.

In the centre of the display is the school house trophy for which the four houses of the school, named after famous explorers, Cook, Fen-

Y.M.-Y.W.C.A. Program At Sanscha Is Successful

—More Girls Wanted

Parents are pleased and Sanscha is proud of the Y.W.-Y.M.C.A. program on Friday afternoons. The four-week trial period is half over. The first day 60 children registered.

Last Friday saw more than twice as many eager youngsters turn out and the encouragement for the instructors is such that they hope to make provision for older groups.

Meantime, some thought has been given to carrying on after the free trial run. Sanscha's committee has decided to continue from March 10

School Board Announces Two Plans For New Schools in Saanich District

Teachers Extoll System of Separating High Schools

Two teachers offered a progress report on the system of separating junior and senior high school classes when ratepayers gathered in the auditorium of Mount Newton high school on Monday evening to discuss the presentation of a new school building by-law.

J. S. Clarke, principal of Royal Oak high school reported that the segregation system had resulted in a greater degree of discipline and that students so separated from the junior high school grades showed a greater sense of responsibility.

Speaking on the opposite side of the fence, J. W. Lott, principal of Mount Newton high school, explained that the grade 9 class was the critical factor. Neither old enough to be senior students nor young enough to be juniors, the grade 9 classes were overwhelmed in the mixed school, he reported.

MORE RESPONSIBILITY

Under the present system they are the senior class in the school and they accepted a greater degree of responsibility under this system.

The segregation policy also worked well in respect of the tendency of the grade 9 girls to be excessively conscious of the senior boys, he noted. This extended as far as the boys were concerned, who were deprived of the opportunity of looking up to the older boys and thus suffered less distraction and emulation.

COMMITTEE OF LEADERS ON THURSDAY

Committee of leaders is sought by Sanscha to assist with the heavy program of activities for youngsters.

On Thursday evening a meeting will be held in the lounge at Sanscha in order to find assistance for the Y.M.C.A. program.

Meeting will open at 8 p.m.

LITTLE LEAGUE IS AT CROSS ROADS HERE

Little League baseball is at the crossroads in the Sidney area. Its future will be settled at a meeting on Monday evening in the banquet room of the Sidney Hotel.

The league will operate here under a franchise if it can be properly established.

Sponsors are fearful that if sufficient interest is not shown by parents of boys concerned it will collapse.

All interested parents and residents of the district have been urged to attend the inaugural meeting on Monday evening.

Former Sidney Couple Mark 60th Wedding Anniversary

Former Sidney couple are marking their 60th wedding anniversary this week in Duncan. They are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gilman, 600 Dobson St., Duncan.

Mr. Gilman was a barber in Sidney for many years and is still remembered by many for his enthusiastic participation in community affairs.

The couple left Sidney many years ago to reside up-island.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilman were married at Mount Pleasant Baptist Church, in Vancouver, on March 12, 1901. In 1905 they moved to Victoria. They have spent the rest of the time on Vancouver Island, divided between Sidney, Ladysmith and Duncan.

They will entertain at open house on Saturday, March 11 from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. and from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. On Sunday they will be at home to their friends and neighbors.

ABDUCTION

Four Are Charged At Sidney

Four arraigned last week on charges of abduction and forcing entry were released on bail of $2,000 each at Sidney police court on Saturday. They were Chief Henry Smith of Tsartlip Indian Band, Mrs. Julia Sam, Mrs. Philomena James and Victoria Underwood.

The four will appear on Saturday in Sidney police court.

Charges arose from the alleged abduction of Mrs. Horace Paul from her home the previous week-end when she was alleged to have been taken forcibly to be initiated as a dancer.

between the hours of 3 p.m. and 5 p.m. in their Duncan home.

The long-married couple have four daughters and three sons in addition to seven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

AT SIDNEY

Ferry Flow Falls Off Slightly

Ferry traffic between Sidney and Anacortes decreased slightly in February. While, during the first month of the year, 471 Canadian and foreign cars and 1,219 Canadian and foreign passengers patronized the Washington State ferry system, in February there were only 302 Canadian and foreign cars and 1,015 Canadian and foreign passengers crossing the strait in both directions.

During February, 1960, 515 Canadian and foreign automobiles and a total of 1,744 Canadian and foreign passengers used the ferry between Vancouver Island and the American mainland.

Three foreign and one Canadian yacht cleared customs at Sidney Harbor during the last month.

High School Team Defeats College

On Saturday afternoon the Victoria College held an invitational men's volleyball tournament.

The North Saanich high team defeated Victoria College but lost out to Royal Roads and the eventual winners of the tournament, Puntland United.

—When Ratepayers Assemble

No new route to new schools was offered a group of about 100 ratepayers when they met with the trustees of Saanich School District on Monday evening in Mount Newton high school. A two-way system was offered. The first plan closely resembled the earlier by-laws which have been thrice defeated, while a secondary path offered a pared-down program at a saving of $140,000.

Meeting was called to enable the trustees to gain an insight into the wishes of the ratepayers regarding a program for providing the needed additional school accommodation.

Chairman Reginald Sinkinson opened the discussion by an outline of the two plans prepared by trustees. He also referred to a third plan which was not presented in detail and admitted that there was not a unanimity of opinion among trustees.

Plan 1 calls for the expenditure of $764,000 on the provision of new classrooms at many elementary schools to accommodate grade 7 students; three entirely new schools; three new sites, one site extension and blacktop at several schools; a complete new high school and the necessary equipment.

This plan would provide for elementary accommodation of grades one to seven junior high schools for grades eight to 10 and senior high school for the top two grades. The high school would serve all the district and would ultimately offer grade 13.

The second plan would see the same grades in elementary schools but would provide for grades 8 to 12 in the existing high schools. The same sites would be purchased and the same increased accommodation for elementary schools would be necessary. Saving would be made in the high school section, where additional rooms would be constructed on existent schools instead of building an entirely new school.

By means of these economies the program would cost $627,000.

Meeting Favors First Plan

General attitude of the meeting was warmth towards the first plan. Majority of ratepayers in attendance represented those groups enthusiastically supporting the provision of new accommodation without too close a concern with the cost.

A number of criticisms were heard from various members of the audience, while a number of speakers urged the board to go ahead with the provision of a by-law and make every effort to gain its approval.

J. W. Gibbs, of Deep Cove asked why it was possible to offer an extension of Mount Newton high school under the second plan when it was not practical to accommodate all students in the district by a simple addition of a classroom. He was advised that the addition suggested represents the maximum possible extension to the school and that the building site would lend themselves to no greater extension.

Brian Hoole Offers Big List

Brian Hoole, of Prospect Lake, offered nine queries. Why was it now possible to extend Prospect Lake school, he asked, when it had not earlier been practical to do so?

Extension planned is in the form of a portable, temporary classroom, said Mr. Sinkinson and no plans have been made for a permanent addition to the inadequate facilities available.

A suitable property was available, the school board was so advised and turned it down, asserted Mr. Hoole. The suitability of the property in question was a matter of opinion referred to the children and the board had not shared the view of Mr. Hoole.

There are two washbasins at the school for 70 children. What did the board plan in order to provide adequate facilities? Mr. Sinkinson did not know how it could be done, but he was satisfied that it could and would be done.

Was the furnace adequate to carry another classroom? A portable classroom is provided with an integral heating unit.

Was the new maintenance shop planned in a central location? The site is not yet chosen but the chairman trusted it would be centrally located.

What would be the difference, in terms of taxes, between the two plans? It would represent $2,200 over 10 years, or one-tenth of a mill. Could Mr. Hoole afford that? enquired the chairman.

Maverick Trustee Speaks Out

Trustee Lewis Harvey rose to observe that he was not entirely in sympathy with the views expressed. "It is only fair to say," announced the maverick trustee, "that some of the trustees are not entirely in agreement with the chairman."

Mr. Sinkinson noted that the majority of the board was in favor of the plans presented. He personally favored Plan 1.

Mr. Harvey noted that he was in favor of providing the needed classrooms for the children of the district but that ratepayers are already paying on seven by-laws of the past and that they will be paying on more before the forthcoming by-law has reached its conclusion.

A Cordova Bay delegate enquired, "Is the trustee from Deep Cove in favor of any kind of by-law at all?"

Mr. Harvey replied that he was in favor of a central high school, but that he felt its inclusion would result in the defeat of the by-law.

A number of speakers urged that the ratepayers must agree on a by-law and must then make every effort to gain its passage.

Two Veterinarians To Open Clinics In Sidney Village

Saanich Peninsula pets are coming into their own. For the past many decades every sick pet has been faced with a journey into the city of Victoria. A departure from this long-established routine is forecast by the announcement of a new pet clinic in Sidney. The announcement is augmented by a further announcement of an impending second pet clinic in Sidney.

Next week will see the opening of the Sidney Animal Clinic in the premises adjacent to the office of Dr. J. D. Butler on Beacon Ave.

Veterinary surgeon from Victoria, Dr. Robert G. Langer, will attend at Sidney for three mornings each week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday. In the meantime, Dr. J. Willard Smith, who is in the process of seeking approval of the construction of an animal hospital on Keating Cross Road, is also planning a pet clinic in Sidney.

Although Dr. Langer is a veteran of the United States Army's Veterinary Corps, like the old cowhand who never saw a cow, he never saw a sick horse in the time he served. The corps, he explained, is a legacy from the days when the cavalry required the constant services of a veterinarian. Today the cavalry rides tanks and jeeps, while the veterinary corps concerns itself with the quality of food derived from animals.

FERRY LINK FORGED BY ISLAND PRINCESS

Nearly 100 Gulf Islanders On Inaugural Run

In gala mood despite continuous cold winds which swept the wharf, nearly 100 Gulf Islands residents disembarked from M.V. Island Princess on Tuesday afternoon when the vessel arrived to forge a new ferry link with Sidney. Heading the group was O. H. "Sparky" Moore of Vancouver and Gabriele, president of Coast Ferries Ltd., operators of the ship.

"Residents of the Gulf Islands generally are very much impressed with the new service we are now providing to the Port of Sidney and we look for a sharp upturn in traffic, especially during the busy tourist months," Mr. New told The Review. The company recently decided to drop the Port of Ganges on Salt Spring Island from its regular service and to sail the ship to Sidney four times weekly. It will call here each Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons and remain long enough to permit passengers adequate time to shop in Sidney.

WARM WELCOME

Visitors travelling on Motor Princess, on her inaugural run on Tuesday, came from Galliano, Mayja, Saturna and Pender Islands. They were entertained warmly in Hotel Sidney by members of Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce, headed by President A. R. Spooner. A pleasing lunch was served by the hotel staff.

The vessel left sharp at 4 p.m. on her return journey, calling at Saturna, Hope Bay, Mayne and Galliano before sailing for her home port of Steveston.

SANSCHA WILL BE HOST TO DOG FANCIERS SHOW

Sidney will be going to the dogs in May. The village was chosen as a convention capital and will be playing host to the dog fanciers. Sanscha has booked the Dog Fanciers Show. In order to help Sanscha finances, members are organizing to feed the visitors breakfast, lunch and dinner for two days.

And for that one coffee urn isn't enough. Not that the dogs are complaining, but the fanciers fancy coffee. The catering committee at Sanscha is trying to find 300 ladies who will each donate one Jameson coffee or tea bag, or 150 ladies who can donate two each, in order that Sanscha may obtain, absolutely free, one shiny 34-cup coffee urn.

All ladies in the district are asked to think of the dogs and their masters coming in May, of Sidney as the convention capital, and to help Sanscha achieve this objective.

Beautifully decorated birthday cake was included in refreshments served to members and friends of the Old Age Pensioners' Association on Thursday afternoon following the business meeting. The occasion was the 90th birthday celebration of one of their fellow members, E. L. Clay, who has lived in this district for 31 years.

Overnight visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Martin, Third St., during the past week was Capt. (Padre) J. P. Gordon of Camp Borden, Ont. Captain Gordon was scheduled to fulfill a pulp engagement at Fairview Baptist Church, Vancouver.

While in Ottawa, they visited their daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. W. D. McCartney. The holiday was most enjoyable, but Mr. Jones is quite convinced the Peninsula is the only place for a permanent home.

Garden Club Helps Sanscha

Mrs. H. R. Townshend was in the chair at the March meeting of the Garden Club in the Hotel Sidney on Thursday, Mar. 2. R. Gibbs represented Sanscha.

He asked for help and guidance from the club in beautifying Sanscha grounds. W. deMacedo, J. W. Watson and B. W. Andrews, who formed the committee in connection with planting at the ferry dock in town, agreed to continue and give Sanscha their help also.

Winners of the monthly club competition were: 1, Mrs. C. Hunt; 2, Mrs. H. R. Townshend; 3, Mrs. R. Joy. Mr. and Mrs. D. Barton, of Gaybord Gardens, were present. Mr. Barton gave helpful information from the Royal Horticultural Society show hand book.

He presented a book by E. R. James on, Flower Growing for Shows, to the president for use by the club. In his suggestions, regarding the coming flower show, he thought many people who are not members have lovely gardens and they should be encouraged to put in exhibits.

For a nominal entry fee anyone can enter. The only rule is that the exhibitor be an amateur. This year's show will be on April 22 and it is hoped tulips will be in full bloom. Club competition for April meeting will be an arrangement of daffodils and one other arrangement.

There are the refugees streaming along the roads in the face of the German advance, the dive-bombing attacks, the blowing up of a railroad bridge, grenade and rifle fire, the hell of the beaches and the rescue of men from the water. Since the northern coast of France is today so built up as to be almost unrecognizable from the days in 1940, the beaches and sand dunes of Camber, near Rye, in England, was chosen as the location for the production. PACIFIC ISLAND COMEDY, DUNKIRK STORY AT GEM

Ernie Kovacs stars with Dick Shawn, Margo Moore and Jack Warden in Mervyn LeRoy's cinemascopic color production "Wake Me When It's Over" which will be presented by the Gem Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Mar. 9, 10 and 11. Leading comedians such as Bob Hope, Jack Benny and Red Skelton describe this picture as an outstanding comedy.

Based on Howard Singer's best-seller by the same name, the picture tells the story of Gus Brubaker, a Manhattan barkeeper and World War Two veteran who through a mix-up in air force serial numbers is re-drafted and shipped to a radar base on Shima, a tiny island in the Pacific. Learning through a native girl that on the island are hot springs, Gus presents his idea, to erect a resort hotel, to his C.O., whom he knows from the war. The G.I.s on the island form a corporation and build a swanky hostelry made of cast-off air force odds-and-ends. When word about this "resort" reaches the United States an inspector general's team with a senator is sent to the island to investigate the use of half a million worth of misappropriated government equipment. After much confusion the hotel is turned over to the villagers and the Manhattan barkeeper is sent back to his home.

Heroic story of the evacuation of the British expeditionary force from France is re-told in the film "Dunkirk," which will be shown at the Gem on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Mar. 13, 14 and 15. The M.G.M. release covers a period of nine summer days in 1940 when a whole army, which had been unready and ill-equipped, was in retreat and faced complete annihilation.

Local Dairy Farms Enter Competition

Trophy for the annual British Columbia Ton-of-Fat competition was recently won by a mainland dairy farmer from Ladner with 55.5 per cent of his herd, Ton-of-Fat cows.

Three Saanichton dairy farms, J. Looy, C. S. Fox and son and G. A. Swan and son, also entered the competition as they each had 25 per cent or more of their cows with completed records that individually had a ton of fat to their credit.

In all, 68 members of the British Columbia Dairy Herd Improvement Association qualified for entry in the competition by having 25 per cent or more of their herd with a ton of fat to their credit.

JAMES ISLAND

Mrs. D. C. Wright and Mrs. K. A. Wood were co-hostesses last Wednesday, at the home of Mrs. Wright, with an afternoon tea for Mrs. Allan Kerr, who is leaving the Island to reside in Sidney. Invited guests were Mesdames J. C. Doran, J. Foster, J. Askey, J. Roper, W. Hinchcliffe, E. Ellington, R. C. Rivers, E. Keiff, R. A. Walker, P. Schulz, G. Van Volkenburg, W. Sidwell and A. R. Bader. Upon arrival, the honored guest was presented with a corsage of spring flowers, following which delightful refreshments were served. Mrs. Wright then presented an electric kitchen clock to Mrs. Kerr, on behalf of the guests.

On Friday evening the children of James Island, for whom Mrs. Allan Kerr has assisted in organizing parties and teen-age dances, gathered outside her home for a sing-song. When Mrs. Kerr appeared, they sang "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" and presented her with a cake plate, to show their appreciation and wish her well in her new home.

Further complimenting Mr. and Mrs. A. Kerr, prior to their departure from James Island, a pleasant get-together was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sidwell. Invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Emile Keiff and Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Woods. Music and dancing, followed by refreshments, rounded out the evening.

Mrs. J. Foster, who has been spending the winter months with her daughter, Mrs. A. W. Scott, is returning to her home in Biggar, Sask. Accompanying his grandmother will be Ron Scott, who plans to spend some time on the prairies.

Mrs. Ralph Alcock of Brentwood was most pleasantly surprised on Monday when she paid a visit to James Island to have tea with her friend, Mrs. E. Ellington. Upon arrival she discovered that Mesdames John Roper and K. A. Wood had joined with Mrs. Ellington at her home as hostess at a tea to which various neighbors and their young daughters had been invited. These included Mesdames Lawson,

BRENTWOOD

At their regular social meeting for February, the Brentwood W.I. heard a most interesting and informative lecture on the development of South Africa leading toward its present conditions of unrest, by R. W. Hamblett. Mr. Hamblett, a well known resident of Brentwood, spent many years in South Africa and, as he said, left a piece of his heart behind. He feels that it will be a long time before a true understanding can be reached between the African and the white man, for Apartheid is as much a part of the make up of the one as of the other. After a period of questions from the audience, tea was served by Mrs. A. F. Bullough. Mrs. E. Woodward, the president, thanked Mr. Hamblett on behalf of the institute for a very enjoyable afternoon. A short business meeting followed to lay plans for the institute's birthday tea, to be held on March 17.

Coaches of the Little League baseball players are requesting the boys to turn in all uniforms as soon as possible to their own coaches. Plans are now being made for the commencement of the 1961 games. A meeting for this purpose will be held on March 13 in the Sidney Hotel banquet room. The attendance of all interested persons is urgently requested.

Sluggert Memorial Young People enjoyed a practical discussion with their pastor, Mr. Westcott, on "Do you believe everything you hear?" last Friday night. They are looking forward with anticipation to March 10, when the Lakehill Y.P. will be bringing a special musical program.

Because of so much illness in most families, a farewell tea and presentation was not made to Mrs. Alcock when she moved from the island, and the guests took this occasion to present her with a spring corsage and a gift of a china teapot, cream and sugar with a tray to remind her of the time spent on James Island.

Tentative plans were made for a tea to be held at the rectory in aid of the Columbia Coast Mission. A donation of $50 was voted for the Refugee Fund. A drive for this fund, will be taking place later this month.

A card from the diocesan board was presented to Mrs. Hall in recognition of her many years of membership in and service to the auxiliary.

Meet Joan Carter of the Sidney Branch of the Bank of Montreal

A bluenoser a long way from home, Mrs. Carter has had her share of travelling in recent years. A teller at the Sidney Branch of the Bank of Montreal, she came here in 1959 with her husband, who is serving with the Royal Canadian Navy.

It is four years and several thousand miles since Joan left her native Glasgow, Nova Scotia, where she graduated from high school.

Now, settled down in Sidney, Joan bowls in her spare time and last year received a trophy as the most improved woman bowler of the year.

And besides her Bank job, Joan has the usual house-maker's chores to attend to, and raises house-plants as a hobby.

PATHWAY TO FAILURE

SAANICH School District has established an impressive precedent in the field of school building. For the past many months expansion and progress have been at a standstill and as a result the standard of education available to a large section of the district children has fallen to a new low level. On three consecutive occasions a school building by-law has been rejected.

Upon the third rejection there was considerable concern in the district at the conditions facing students. A shift system was perpetuated and overcrowded classrooms faced little hope of relief.

A concentrated effort was made by many groups to assess the picture and come up with a solution. Consensus at the time was that a by-law must be presented in such a manner as to fulfill the essential requirements of the district but yet to offer a program which would be palatable to the critics who averred that the money voted was not being wisely spent. It was patent that a re-presentation of the unsuccessful by-law would be close to farcical.

On Monday evening ratepayers who had been eagerly awaiting the next move of the school trustees were faced with a disappointment. To many who attended the ratepayers' meeting at Mount Newton high school on Monday evening the new program was a pleasant announcement. Unfortunately, those who so welcomed it were largely influenced by their own personal wishes. To those who are fully aware of the steady opposition which has been voiced against earlier proposals the new plans provided for no material change in thinking and offered no conclusive promise of success.

Two plans were offered. The first provides for a departure from the present system by splitting the high schools and segregating junior and senior high school students. The second seeks to reduce the costs of the plan to some degree by maintaining mixed, junior-senior high schools and extending existing schools.

The new plans offer a solution to the accommodation problems of the situation. There can be no legitimate objection to either and the first-mentioned plan is one of considerable vision and foresight. If there were not a heavy sentiment here against the expenditure of monies on school building, the first plan should be selected and approved. It would assist in the alleviation of overcrowding in our schools and it would also open the door to a more effective division of pupils in their grades. Unfortunately it is no longer a question of what is best for the students, but a question of how much support can be expected.

These same new plans involve the expenditure of a large sum of money on the provision of accommodation which cannot be considered strictly, in the critical sense, as classrooms. It envisages new home economics rooms and industrial arts centres. It boasts of showers and kindred facilities in the schools. It is planning covered play areas in elementary schools. These are all excellent provisions and there can normally be little criticism offered. But not at this time.

Those of us who are determined to see a successful school building by-law must at this time protest the inclusion of any provision which is not an essential to the immediate increase of classroom accommodation.

The by-law in its two preliminary forms is beyond criticism academically. It is almost certainly beyond hope of success.

Trustees of the school district cannot be urged too strongly to abandon their own views and the factors which they deem necessary from their own experience. They must look only from the point of view of their strongest critics. It is these critics who will decide whether the by-law is to pass or not and success can only be achieved by compromise.

Neither plan devised by the school board appears to offer any great prospects of success in its present state. While the second proposal reduces the over-all cost, this is achieved by a complete change in thinking rather than a modification of programming. Irrespective of the relative costs of these two programs, the critics are likely to question the alleged "frills" before they query the actual cost in dollars and cents.

We would welcome the presentation of a modified alternative whereby the plans of pupil distribution followed the outline of Plan 1, with grades one to seven in the elementary schools, a junior high school in each district and a central high school for senior students. Under this presentation, the trustees should then pare down every factor, eliminating each feature which has been a bone of contention, and offer it in its stripped form. If the design is appropriate, further facilities may be added in the future at such time as the ratepayers might approve them.

While we make this recommendation with the strongest possible plea, we will wholeheartedly agree with both the school board and the proponents of the present plans that it is, indeed, deplorable that we must consider these conditions. The ratepayers of this district are offering a grave disservice to their children, their neighbor's children and to the nation by consistently refusing to provide the needed facilities. Nevertheless, we must reach an acceptable compromise and the school district has not yet done so. We have seen the way paved to yet another failure and it leaves us very, very concerned.

Letters To The Editor

CANADA LAGS BEHIND

In a recent issue of your paper you commented favorably on the small crumbs dropped to the village by the postmaster general, permitting the post office to remain open on Monday afternoon.

Canada lags behind in its failure to provide house to house mail delivery to all who purchase postage stamps or make use of the mail.

Great Britain and western European countries have provided these facilities for 100 years or more. In Canada, those living in rural areas are provided with this service, but residents of small towns, villages and hamlets are denied a service which should unquestionably be available equally to them.

Delivering mail is an occupation most suitable for men, and being of a permanent nature (not seasonal) would give employment to a very large number of those now receiving unemployment insurance and other forms of assistance. As evidenced by the fact that the larger cities take on millions to handle the Christmas rush, it is apparent that no expensive technical school costly equipment or high salaried staff would be required to provide the training necessary.

Now Mr. Editor should you be sufficiently interested you could write five letters to five weekly papers in the province, asking them in turn to do the same; this campaign would spread from coast to coast, residents could be urged to write to their local members and

ACROSS MY DESK

REPORT FROM VICTORIA

by

JOHN D. T. TISDALE, M.L.A.

The legislature is now in the process of considering the individual sums of money that are to be voted for the operation of each department and their many separate functions.

These sums are all numbered and are the estimated amounts that are deemed to be necessary for carrying out the policy and work of the department for one year. Hence the term "estimates" that applies to the large loose leaf folder that presently resides on each member's desk, as we proceed to vote the supply of money for the operation of government.

On the first of the week we dealt with Vote No. 2 which was the Premier's salary and his office. There were only two votes in this department, but it took the best part of two sittings to approve them. The reason for this is the numerous questions that can be asked under these two votes.

The Premier can be questioned on all matters that come under his direction, such as the P.G.E., the B.C. Power Commission and, of course, Dominion-provincial fiscal policies. Many and varied were the criticisms of the opposition as they

The new veterinarian here graduated from Washington State University in 1958 and practiced for a time in Seattle. In addition to his qualifications in veterinary medicine, he is also a wildlife biologist.

His attention turned to Canada when he decided that Canada is in the same period of development that characterized the United States many years ago. He likes the countryside here and the climate and he believes that progress is the prerogative of this Dominion today.

Dr. Lurger already practices at the Quadra Animal Clinic on Quadra St. at Hillside.

The second clinic here will open when the base headquarters, opposite Butler Bros. on Keating Cross Road, has been finally approved by the Central Saanich council.

ART EXHIBITION PLANNED AT CORDOVA BAY

At an art show on Saturday, Mar. 18, Miss V. Foster will exhibit an impressive selection of water colors at St. David's Church Hall in Cordova Bay.

Miss Foster studied in England at the Nottingham School of Art, where her father, H. Wilson Foster, was the "life" master.

Since coming to Canada she has become well known for her flowers and landscapes, through exhibits in the Royal Academy of Art in Montreal and the Victoria Art Gallery.

Also showing her paintings will be Mrs. M. Hobbs, whose pictures of dogwoods have received wide acclaim.

TO PAINT AT SHOW

Both artists will be present and will be painting during the show for the enjoyment of the public, from 3 to 5 p.m. and from 7.30 to 9.30 p.m.

Mrs. D. Ashby will be the convener of an informal tea which will be included in the admission.

Sure is a difference between good, sound reasons and reasons that sound good.

... and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand." John 10:28.

In the years gone by when street cars were in use they also had safety zones that were established for their patrons. These were right out in the middle of the street and you stood there with motor traffic to the right and to the left until your car came along. These were man-made and in most instances served the purpose. But in one instance this system failed. A group of passengers had just alighted from one car and were waiting to transfer to the next car when an automobile went out of control and plunged through that safety zone, killing some and injuring others. They had believed themselves to be safe but they were wrong.

In the religious field you may also be standing in a "man-made" safety zone of good works, or that of belonging to a church, or again, that of being associated with a mother and father who are Christians. These are all ideas that man has suggested as safe places to stand in regard to their assurance of an entrance into heaven. Too late such people will find that their safety zone will not protect them from the danger of condemnation. God says that they are "condemned already because they have not believed."

Belief in the Lord Jesus Christ as your Saviour is the only plan of salvation that God ever recognized for it is the only one that He has provided. He says that "whosoever believeth in Him shall never perish" and again "neither is there salvation in any other for there is no other name under heaven, given among men, whereby we must be saved." If you would be saved you must believe and accept the offer that God has made—Jesus Christ as the Saviour of your soul and Lord of your life.

Let's give the small man a break ... and not break the small man!

War. His first farm was located on Beacon Ave., west of East Saanich Road and now forms part of Patricia Bay Airport. Later he moved to Centre Road, where he made his home until his retirement 15 years ago.

Mr. Gorton was well into his eighties before he set aside his tools for the last time. At the same time he relinquished his driver's license and disposed of his Model "T" which had been his means of transport for several decades.

Later he had been a patient in a nursing home near Elk Lake, with Mrs. Gorton.

In addition to his wife, he leaves two sons, Thomas J. and John S., both of Sidney; two daughters, Mrs. William Todd (Viola), of Sidney and Miss Alma Gorton, of Victoria; seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren, and a sister in England. A third daughter, Sylvia, predeceased him several years ago.

Last rites will be observed on Saturday afternoon at Holy Trinity taken home by Mrs. E. Tuttle, E. Gummer, G. Pedersen, Mrs. Hansen, Mrs. Skinner and Mr. Pendlebury. The party concluded on a very happy note with refreshments and an old-fashioned sing-song, with Mrs. R. Blake at the piano playing all the old favorites as they were called for.

Church, Patricia Bay, at 2 p.m., when Canon F. C. Vaughan-Birch will officiate. Interment will follow in the churchyard. Sands Funeral Chapel is in charge of arrangements.

By popular demand, another tournament has been promised for next fall, but in the meantime, monthly card parties will be held until summer at the Legion Hall. April 1 is the date for the next one.

BULB FARM EXTENDS SPRING G

Pencillings . . .

from Pender

By V. SHIRLEY

Spring appears to be just around the corner, but reports of snow behind every corner at the week-end made us glad that Pender escaped any appreciable fall of the white stuff. Daffodils are blooming, and robins prevalent. . . . The Motor Princess had to come out to Pender Thursday evening with an overload of cars left stranded at Swartz Bay. Same old story of a little ferry too small for the traffic. Wonder when the boys in Victoria are going to get down to brass tacks about giving the islands a decent ferry service? . . . The fix is still hanging around and a number of children had to miss school again last week. . . . Penny Smith is helping out Dad and Uncle Bill in the store these days—sure sign of growing up.

We understand Mrs. K. G. Robinson is picking up driftwood in her spare time. Anyone have a quick, easy recipe for polishing the stuff? . . . Michael Coleman won a set of encyclopedia for stumping the TV panel on Fighting Words recently. Congratulations, Michael. . . . The live cod that was found flapping around on the foundation of MacKinnon's house last week didn't fly up there. A mink brought it. . . . Wilson's Dairy is all dolled up with a 1961 Volkswagen truck. We hear the cows have practically doubled their output. . . . Saw in a city daily that the Island Princess is compet-

THE GULF ISLANDS

Auction and Sale To Be Held in Fall

Ladies' Auxiliary to the Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital held their regular monthly meeting in the board room of the hospital on February 28, with 24 members present. Four new members were welcomed, Mesdames J. James, C. Moat, B. Markham and V. A. Bishop. Thanks were extended to Miss M. Lees who made the donation of a portable electric sewing machine to the auxiliary.

Members were reminded that the annual auction and sale will be held in September. Any articles will be taken by any member of the auxiliary and made ready for the sale.

ing with the Sidney and Tsawwassen now—shades of Aesop! . . . The "new" airplane float towed in to Port Washington recently is slightly water-logged, but rumor has it that a fresh log will be placed under the low side soon, proving the old adage that "where there's a will, there's a way".

Date Set For Donation Tea

Vesuvius Bay Circle of the Salt Spring Island Anglican Women's Auxiliary met on Tuesday, Feb. 28, at the home of Mrs. A. G. Wilkins, with the vice-president, Miss Margaret Motherwell in the chair.

Archdeacon and Mrs. G. H. Holmes conducted the devotional period. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted also the treasurer's report, which showed a balance of $47.55 on hand.

Miss Muriel Harrington was named delegate to the annual diocesan meeting to be held in Victoria. The Women's Day of Prayer, held at St. George's Church, was well attended by members of the circle. A letter from H. Price relating to the Congo appeal was read. The date of this appeal is to be given out from the local churches on Sunday, Mar. 12.

Mrs. Holmes read some notes from the bulletin and also an interesting article describing the ancient church of St. Bartholomew of London, which dates back to the year 1123.

The annual donation tea is to be held on Wednesday, Apr. 12, at the home of Mrs. W. Flewin, with Mrs. L. C. Lambert convening.

Next meeting of the circle will be held at the home of Miss Harrington on Tuesday, Mar. 21. Archdeacon Holmes closed the meeting with prayer and following adjournment tea was served, hostesses being Mrs. R. T. Meyer and Miss D. Mickleborough.

You'll never be popular if you spend all your time taking advantage of your right of free speech.

High temperature during the month was 56 deg. Fah. on February 6; low was 32 deg. Fah. on February 26 and 27; maximum mean was 47.4 deg. Fah. and minimum was 33.3 deg. Fah. Sunshine during the month was also at an all time low.

Island Credit Union Is Four Years Old

Mrs. A. Jackson, A. M. Brown and D. Goodman were elected as supervisory committee. Directors are M.

John Stanley Crocker, Laurence Joe, George Elliott and Fred R. Elliott, all of Galiano, were each sentenced to nine months imprisonment when they were convicted in Ganges police court on two counts of breaking and entering. Terms will be concurrent. The four men appeared before Magistrate W. S. Anderson. Two minors from Ganges were also fined, one for being in possession of liquor, and the other for being in possession of liquor and failing to stop at a stop sign.

ISLAND SCOUTS HEAR ADDRESS

Scout Leader Marshall Sharpe gave a talk, illustrated with color slides, on the R.C.A.F. Arctic Survival Training Plan, at the regular monthly meeting of the Ganges Sea Scouts, held in Legion Hall on Salt Spring Island.

Scout John Waterfall received his second class badge at this meeting. On Sunday the Scouts, Cubs and Brownies held a joint church parade at St. George's Church to commemorate the founding of the Scout and Guide movements, and the birthdays of the founders, Lord and Lady Baden-Powell. The Cub pack is now at full strength and unable to take in additional members.

WILDLIFE AT DROMORE ON SALT SPRING

Quail Like To Live In Large Families

By BEA HAMILTON

Several broods of quail, numbering some 10 or so in each, were brought up in the orchards of Dromore last spring. It is a familiar and delightful sight to see about 25 plump little gray-brown birds with their black and white ringed eyes and their perky black top-knots continuously running and jumping.

They are all much of equal size but there is one quail which seems larger than the others and more adult than any in the covey. Even the black and white rings around his eyes are larger and he constantly pipes all birds to order.

He's in a rush to get to the feedings grounds and in a hurry to move again.

This must be papa quail. He's got the disposition of a sergeant-major, or an army M.P.

He rushes ahead of the long straggling covey down the back path, whistles a warning to "be ready to take cover"—then, with the keen eyes of a traffic officer, he gives his "all clear" call.

You can almost hear the words—and the families behind him come running out of the grass and bushes and get down to the daily task of finding food—greens, bugs, insects and fruit.

LARGE FAMILIES

Almost automatically, one bird stations itself in a tree overlooking the flock. He is not seen at a casual glance and unless you look for him, you would not know he was there.

At the first sign of danger, he gives a quick, piercing whistle and all birds rush for shelter. These gray brown birds can vanish "quicker than a wink," but they don't go far and if the "look-out" finds it is merely one of those humans who put out food, they are all piped back to the feeding line.

During his "watch," the look-out quail will give soft signals of "all's well," keeping the covey under close surveillance, and he will warn any stragglers to get back.

Tidy, busy little birds which mind their own business and stick together in large families.

But one evening recently, there was great disturbance, both visible and audible. Two blue jays were disturbing the peace. Hopping amongst the quail, the blue of the jays' coats was strikingly outstanding and very beautiful.

However, it was not appreciated by papa quail. It was all right as long as the blue jays minded their own business—they were welcome to feed there. But then they began to get nosy—and started to rob the smaller quail of their delicious greens and insects, right out of their bills. Papa quail and one or two stalwart looking males, their top-knots standing straight up in indignation, ordered the two jays off—and out!

There was a scuffle as the jays defied orders to go. Papa quail, backed by two quail "bouncers," quickly routed the surprised intruders, and they took a hasty flight into the nearest apple tree.

From the safety thereof, they screamed their abuse, their own black crests puffed high with fury.

With wings flapping, they told papa quail what they thought of his hospitality. Then those clowns of the bird-land hooted with merriment, thoroughly enjoying the disturbance they had caused.

Thus quickly can a blue jay change from a noisy, cheeky, thieving rascal to a happy and friendly fellow.

Only a blue jay could be so contrary, hated one moment and loved the next. He is undoubtedly the most complex and lovely of our birds, but the more staid quail couldn't have cared less.

They wisely went about continuing their supper and completely ignored the rowdy jays. Dusk was falling and papa quail was anxious to get his family under cover for the night.

Even now a night owl hooted far back in the woods and the quail call "Ah hoo" sent all the birds running in a long row up the back path—all except one. He stayed behind for just one more little nip before bed.

And while papa called the roll in the thicket at the back of the house where they slept, this little quail came running up the path for all the world like "Dopey" of the seven dwarfs in Snowwhite.

He managed to flutter into the thicket just as papa quail had settled down—there was a sharp call or two, as no doubt papa quail reprimanded him, and then it was all quiet.

Even the blue jays were settled in the top of the thick cedar tree above the quail, and all was well with our feathered friends at Dromore, for at least one more night.

Island Party Is Tribute To Couple Active At Saturna

By RUBY VILLARS-KAY

It seldom happens that a community as large as Saturna Island can keep a secret, but it has happened.

Saturday, Feb. 5, at 9 p.m., saw the culmination of plans that were made at a Christmas party, that was to honor Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warlow. Since then Mrs. Gertrude Drader and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Sargeant, who have left the island, have been added, so we had three guests of honor.

During an interval in the festivities Arthur Ralph mounted the stage and in a sincere voice and attitude told of the wonderful co-operative dedication that has characterized all the help and services that the Warlows have accomplished since first coming to this island. The Warlow Orchestra, comprising Clarissa and Walter, piano and violin, is a decided asset to us. We were very proud to offer as a gift, a beautiful counterpane, for which both Mr. and Mrs. Warlow thanked their friends in a suitable way, renewing their pledge to be ready and very willing to help at any and all times.

Games, contests and dancing rounded out a festive evening. Mrs. Drader and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Sargeant were both gifted with a lovely pair of paintings of four beauty spots of Saturna Island.

Refreshments were served by the Ladies' Service Club and the management of the hall, under supervision of Jim Money.

PARTY LINE

Dedication

By MERIDA A. CUMMINGS.

Why should school teachers have an exclusive on being dedicated people? There are quite a few others that I think should be in that category. Now, take my grocer, I'm going to tell him the next time I go in, that he should be glad to have me come in and get his lovely merchandise and shouldn't charge so much. What about the service stations? I won't object to the three-cent raise in gas because that will only make 13 cents per gallon tax and the men that own the stations should feel obligated to serve me for very little more. They should want to be dedicated men too. Carry the thought through everything and life would be much more pleasant! Money means nothing as a standard, I read, so I must have had a very wrong impression of the reasoning of most of the population—wonder where Gardner, H. Kyler, H. Extell, H. Hoffman and A. Stevens.

The meeting voted a 3 1/2 per cent dividend and a five per cent patronage refund on interest of loans. There was a 10 per cent increase in membership last year and total loans in the four years of operation have been $129,147.78.

The school savings plan has 31 members. The retiring president was Art Young. Mrs. P. Dickinson has been appointed the new secretary-treasurer.

the phrase "keeping up with the Jones" came from? A bicycle race? Why is it that the people who make the most noise are usually the people who know the least of what they criticize? They either never went to college, never had to worry about money, or never taught a multitude of children. Ah well, such is life on an island. Say, I need a new car. . . . Wonder how dedicated my auto salesman feels today?

Reports are still coming in from owners of cats that use the plumbing. No dogs on the list yet!

Teacher: "Now tell me where Irish wolfhounds are found?" Jackie: "Irish wolfhounds don't get lost, ma'am. They're so tall they can see where they're going."

Memorial Stage For Hall On Salt Spring Island

Executive meeting of officers of the Fulford Hall Committee, held on February 28 in Fulford Hall, demonstrated that things are likely to go ahead more progressively, thanks to a donation of $400 from the recently disbanded Fulford recreation commission and other donations, coming in from various sources.

These donations will be used to build a Jack Graham memorial stage, at the east end of Fulford Hall. The structure will be two stories high and 40x20 feet in size.

The top floor will contain a 20x20 stage and a dressing room on each side. The first floor will consist of sports equipment and dressing rooms with showers, plus a 20x20-ft. meeting room.

Some residents have come forward with generous promises of labor and all who knew Jack Graham agree that no person was more deserving of a memorial.

The hall committee is sponsoring an Easter dinner at the hall on April 7. Chairman Doug Dane and his committee approached all organizations to send at least one representative to the public meeting on March 29 at 8 p.m., at Fulford Hall, to discuss the Empire Day sports, parade and festivities, which will be held in Ganges again this year.

The committee needs the help of every person.

Early Spring On Salt Spring

Like the flowers that bloom in the spring, everything is up and coming on Salt Spring Island, and as far as the flowers are concerned, it's been spring all winter.

The first song sparrow was singing his spring song some weeks ago. Wild geese were heard and sighted flying over Mount Bruce and Reginald Hill.

Blue jays have been scrounging for their spring tonic of dandelion roots—with a few yellow crocuses thrown in. They are picking up bugs and grubs, but as Mr. Chesnut prophesied, "we are not out of the woods yet. Last March we saw 10 inches of snow in as many areas," carpets of snow were buried again.

Last year they all came through the snow as it melted and were as perky as ever a few days after.

Mrs. Edie Wilson, a lady from Vancouver, stayed on the island recently. She was impressed by the many flowers she saw everywhere compared to the Vancouver gardens.

WARMER MONTHS

Wettest February Ever Known As Island Soaked

Agriculturally the season is very early due to the mild weather in January and February. Cool season crops have continued to grow slowly. Early daffodils are in flower and Spiraea Vanhouttei are breaking into leaf.

February had the dubious honor of being a record breaking month. Rainfall was the highest and sunshine the lowest recorded for February during the past 48 years. Temperatures were much above normal, according to figures furnished by the Dominion Experimental Farm.

The monthly mean temperature was 43.0 deg. Fah. compared to the 48-year mean of 38.6 degrees. The mean maximum was 47.3 deg. Fah. and the mean minimum of 38.7 deg. Fah. were 5.4 and 6.1 degrees above the long term averages respectively. The highest temperature of 54.0 deg. Fah. occurred on the 6th and the low of 32.0 deg. Fah. was recorded on the 18th.

Rainfall, the highest ever recorded

Experimental Farm Notes

WEEKLY REPORT OF NORTH SAANICH STATION

By E. F. MAAS, P.A.G.

Number of early potato varieties have been tested at the Saanichon Experimental Farm during the past two years. Of these, Fundy, Nordak and Norgleam have shown good promise being equal to Warba in yield but excelling it in smoothness and appearance of the tubers.

Cooking and flavor tests showed these varieties to be equal to Warba. Nordak and Norgleam are varieties developed in North Dakota and will require one more year of satisfactory performance before being licensed in Canada.

Fundy, however, was produced at the Fredrickson Experimental Farm in New Brunswick and seed is available in that area. Initial seed stocks brought to B.C. in 1959 became severely infected with leaf roll virus with the result that no seed was grown here in 1960.

However, considering the merits of Fundy as a high yielding and good quality early variety it is expected that seed stocks will again be introduced and multiplied to meet each year's requirements.

For this year, however, except for the occasional fortunate grower who has been able to maintain a stock of clean Fundy seed, the gardener will have to continue with the standard recommended varieties such as Warba and Early Epicure for his early potatoes.

Winter Scenes On Salt Spring Island

Flurry of snow brought winter scenes back to Salt Spring Island for a few hours this week-end.

At exactly the same time in 1960—March 2-4, the same conditions prevailed. While there were only a few inches of snow this year, last March there were 10 inches. By Monday the snow was melting.

Special features will also be presented in the children's divisions, junior, primary, kindergarten and cradle roll in observance of rally day.

Scout News

Ninth Tsartlip (Saanichton) Cub pack welcomed as new chums Danny Spear, Wayne Heal and Peter Rayburn. Promoted to Sixer was Bobby Johnstone and Terry Bomps was awarded his second "eye" for his cap, and also received his collector's badge.

"B" pack of 1st Tsartlip (Sidney) held a very successful Parents' Night when almost 100 per cent of the boys' families were represented. A regular Cub program of games, knotting instruction and relays was presented and the meeting concluded with a campfire in which the parents participated. Also of interest to the parents was an investiture ceremony when chum Irvin Hawkins was invested as a Cub.

FATHERS ATTEND

"A" pack, Sidney, welcomed several interested fathers to their regular meeting on Wednesday night. They were joined later by members of the Scout troop who, with the Cubs, held a going-up ceremony to receive Cub Maurice Hollingworth into the Scouts. Being February 22, birthday of the founder of Scouting, a large birthday cake was shared by approximately 50 boys, after which games were enjoyed. After dismissing the Cubs, the Scouts carried on their regular meeting.

STUDENTS' U.N. MEETS IN CITY

Students interested in the work of the United Nations had an interesting and profitable week-end when representatives from British Columbia high schools and some from Washington State gathered at the Victoria high school for the annual assembly. Franklin P. Levis of the department of education delivered the opening address.

The representatives from North Saanich high were Edwin Donald and Diane Hulme representing Iran. Melvin Dear and John Hadfield attended under the flag of Sweden.

Disarmament, the problem of segregation and the work of the World Health Organization were three topics that consumed much of the debating time on Friday evening, Saturday morning and afternoon.

A banquet on Saturday evening, followed by a dance, brought the assembly to a close. Lieut. Governor G. R. Pearkes, V.C., was the honored guest and speaker for the evening.

D. W. Robt sponsors the United Nations at North Saanich while Edwin Donald is club president. Locally the group has undertaken to help another Indian boy through school in India at an annual cost of approximately $50 per year.

Vice-Chairman

CAPT. J. ROWTON

Elected vice-chairman of the new amalgamated health unit, Capt. Jack Rowton presented a brief report of the new scope of the augmented health unit when he addressed fellow school trustees of Saanich School District on Monday evening. The only change which will arise from the amalgamation will be an improvement in services, he told his colleagues. It will permit the attendance of a public health nurse outside municipal boundaries.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

Mrs. Stuart Directs Drive In Southeast Peninsula

Once more Mrs. G. R. Stuart, 1930 Dean Park Road, has volunteered to direct the Red Cross campaign in part of North Saanich. The campaign opened on Mar. 1 and will continue until the end of this month. As campaign captain for the district between McTavish Road and Rest Haven Hospital and from the East Saanich Road down to the waterfront, including the village of Sidney, she supervises 22 canvassers who will call at private homes to reach the objective for this year.

Her concern for the welfare of her fellows arose when she, as a young girl, accompanied her father, the late Dr. H. W. Welch, in Calgary on many visits to the sick before the First World War. She saw extensive misery in the Alberta city and from that time determined to make an effort to alleviate suffering.

At the outbreak of the First World War she was engaged actively with the I.O.D.E. Too young to join, she was made an honorary member. Her ability to sew contributed much to this service at home.

After the war she married Captain G. R. Stuart, who, like his wife, was deeply interested in social work. As a professional soldier, Capt. Stuart's garrisons changed frequently and it was in Toronto and mainly in Regina where the couple shared their salary with the poor during the depression.

TO WEST COAST

In 1939 Capt. Stuart was transferred to the west coast and his wife became president of the Apasco, a group of several army women's auxiliaries whose main goal consisted of raising funds for war work.

When Mrs. Stuart's husband retired in 1940, the couple operated a tea room at Thetis Lake, where they entertained members of the armed forces. As Mrs. Stuart recalls today the tea room was a haven for many soldiers far away from home.

In 1943 the retired army man and

Axel Ostrom Heads Sidney Union Local

Local fisherman Axel Ostrom was elected president at the annual meeting of Sidney Local No. 23, U.F.A.W.U., at the Sidney Scout Hall on February 3. Other officers for 1961 are J. Gourd, vice-president, and Gordon Reid, secretary-treasurer.

The executive committee consists of R. Payne, W. Jacobsen, M. Eckert, R. Pearson, B. Brophy and W. Norbury. Mr. Payne and Mr. Ostrom will represent Sidney local at the annual fishermen's convention in Vancouver March 20.

The Sidney group will circulate another petition to press the federal government for a fishermen's wharf at Shoal Harbor.

his wife decided to move to the Saanich Peninsula to enjoy the seclusion of a home overlooking the water. However, their social activity and their dedication to help others did not end. Mrs. Stuart is still an ardent worker in several organizations.

Sanscha Needs Entertainers

Sanscha's program development committee is looking for talent, professional or amateur, to be listed as a backlog for future events.

Under the reorganized setup to fulfil Sanscha's promise to North Saanich for sustained recreational activities, names are needed to fit in with plans.

Singers, dancers, actors, magicians, musicians, artists, jugglers, handcrafters, masters of ceremony and anyone else interested in helping with any form of entertainment is asked to drop a line to Box 687, Sidney, for the attention of Sanscha's committee on program development.

LARGE GROUP ATTENDS PIANO RECITAL HERE

More than 40 visitors assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Anderson, McTavish Road, on Saturday evening to hear a piano recital by 20 music students of Mrs. Anderson.

Parents and friends enjoyed two selections from each student.

Taking part in the recital were Darlene Jack, Glynda Porteous, Pauline Griffiths, Mary Lee Burrows, Martha Tye, Scott Crossley, Linda Baker, Charlotte Erickson, Brock Anderson, Barbara Currie, Anna Tye, Keith Baker, Susan Litwin, Anthony Richards, Patricia Whitworth, Sandra Porteous, Corinne Jack, Jill Payne and Wendy Whitworth.

All students offered a piano performance, while Anna Tye also gave a song, in addition to her work on the piano.

At the conclusion of the recital refreshments were served to musicians and guests.

1, with 20 members and four visitors present.

The meeting opened with a hymn. During a short business session, minutes of the last meeting were read and reports of circles received.

Fall bazaar will be held in Sanscha Hall on December 21.

Mrs. Smith, president of the W.M.S., introduced Mr. and Mrs. Jameson, of Victoria. Mrs. Jameson gave an illustrated talk while her husband showed slides of Portugal, where their son is stationed as a missionary.

Meeting was closed with the mizpah benediction, after which a no-host lunch was enjoyed by all. Next meeting will be held on April 4.

CHURCH GROUP SETS PLANS FOR RUMMAGE SALE

At the regular monthly meeting of St. Andrew's Guild, held recently, final plans were made to hold a rummage sale in the church hall on Saturday, March 18, at 10 a.m. Proceeds will be used for further improvements to the church hall.

The guild, in co-operation with the afternoon and evening branches of the W.A., will hold a coffee hour in

IN AND Around Town

Mr. and Mrs. M. Gilewick, Fourth St., attended the funeral of the latter's father, in Vancouver, last Saturday.

Dr. A. Gray was a visitor to Vancouver last week-end.

Mrs. B. Davis, New Westminster, grand chief, Pythian Sisters, and Mrs. M. Beadnall, Duncan, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Chappuis, Fourth St., last week.

Guide Notes

Only seven members were present when the Sidney Association of Guides and Brownies held their meeting at the home of Mrs. J. N. Champion last week.

"It's a disgrace," says new president Mrs. F. Storey, "there are about 20 Guides and 60 Brownies. Wouldn't you think the mothers could show a little interest when these meetings are only held about three times a year?"

Leaders put in many hours of work with the girls, she added, and they and the few mothers who form the executive of the association would appreciate a little encouragement from the mothers of the Guides and Brownies.

Thanks were expressed to retiring president Mrs. B. L. McLeod and to Mrs. J. N. Champion and Mrs. George Gray for their services over the past years. Mrs. V. Schneider will replace Mrs. Gray as treasurer and Mrs. G. Laing will remain as secretary.

A donation of $15 towards the lodge at Camp Kingswood has been made by the group, and announcement was made that the annual cookie week would be held from April 28 to May 6.

BROWNIE REPORT

In a recent report on the Brownies, Mrs. O. Thomas gave a review of their recent activities and said that at present they are busy making needle books for the Save The Children group.

Mrs. A. Hopkins has offered to help with the Brownies and has been named Goldie Owl.

I.O.D.E. Plans Bridge Party And Fashion Show Here

March meeting of the H.M.S. Endeavour Chapter, I.O.D.E., took place at Sidney school on March 1.

Projects for the next few months were discussed. Among the projects, a home cooking sale is planned for the second Saturday of each month. Other events will be a bridge party on April 20 and a fashion show on May 4. Both will be held in Sanscha Hall.

The members were pleased to welcome a newcomer. Canadian Geographic magazine will again be sent to six district schools as in former years and the nursing bursary will continue.

This chapter's total expenditure was $1,113.16 for the 1959-60 period. Much of this money was spent in this district, mainly for education and charities.

DONATE UNUSED EQUIPMENT

In connection with Sanscha's youth program, so successfully launched, it has been suggested to the committee that many homes may be hiding valuable athletic equipment. This material, stored and forgotten, Sanscha could well use in its physical education program for the benefit of this district.

Experience very often reveals that first-class body-building equipment, material for indoor or outdoor activities, is stored away when it has served its purpose. Anyone who wishes to donate such equipment is requested to phone GR 5-1178 or GR 5-1454 and arrangements will be made to pick it up.
